"I Hope You Know"

When Paul wrote the Philippians to share the joy of living in Christ (Philippians 1:21), he shared the peace that comes when Jesus' mind is made our own (Philippians 2:5). His hope for you and me is to see the newness of thoughts anchored in Christ and supported by His influence. It is from this anchor of thoughts and mind in Christ that we are able to find a path toward the peace beyond understanding. Part of the mind of Christ calls us to think on noble things, things that are honest, honorable, worthy of reverence and respect.

Little is worthy of respect when actions and attitudes are filled with deception and lies. But even though the measure of respect is minor, if any at all, our thoughts on these moments of betrayal can be major if we choose for them to be. Our need is to realign our minds and thoughts with the goodness of peace and comfort with the knowledge of those we have seen who are noble and honorable. We need to dwell upon those who have made it a purpose in their life to be an example worthy of reverence. Who do you think of when you recall the influence of integrity and nobility in your life?

Paul's next "constant thought" is that of a heart being "just." It carries the weight of being one who knows the difference between right and wrong, and strives to maintain that understanding in all areas of life. God is just, righteous, right, in all ways (John 17:25). He is just when it comes to punishment (Lamentations 1:18) and praise (Psalm 112:6). Jesus is just (Acts 3:14). The only time we find opportunity to be just (right) is when we have embraced His just nature as our own (Romans 3:21-26).

Your life is in your hands to actively live out your faith, your integrity, your honor. Our community of Centerville needs your life of integrity to make a difference. One opportunity stands both public in response and private in responsibility. Saturday, October 1, the residents of Centerville will permit or not permit package stores to sell alcoholic beverages. The active practice of nobility is seen in our actions. The active practice of what is just is seen through what we defend for our just God. There are no insignificant opportunities to do what is right and to show integrity in the eyes of men.

CENTERVILLE CHURCH OF CHRIST
YOUTH MINISTRY
Matt. 5:14-16
COMING SOON...
-Sept. 30
5th Quarter

SUNDAY NIGHT ONCE AGAIN... presented us with another terrific opportunity for fellowship and worship at our Fireside. Matthew and Cissy Dotson were our hosts for the evening and we set the all time attendance record at their home! It's been awesome to see so many of our young people being involved this year. I believe that involving young people in the youth group is one of the most important things that we can do as parents. However, as parents it's even more important to make sure that we are involving our children in the church as a whole. Often times we make the mistake of separating the "youth group" as if it has an identity all it's own apart from the church. 1 Cor. 12:12 says, "The body is a unit, though it is made up of many parts; and though all its parts are many, they form one body. So it is with Christ." The Youth Ministry program here at Centerville plays a vital role in the lives of our young people. However, if we are not teaching our children to be involved in the Lord's church, we are leaving out the most important part. We must teach our children the importance of worship, Bible Class, and learning to play a role in the church today, not just in the future. Apart from the church, there is no such thing as youth ministry or a youth program. We say so often that our young people are the church of the future. If we are not teaching them to be the church of today, our future may not look so bright! May we strive to connect our children to Jesus in everything we do, first by example, and then by instruction.

THIS COMING FRIDAY NIGHT WE WILL BE HAVING... our next 5th Quarter after the home football game. This week we will not be in the fellowship hall, we will be at Doyle Bowen Memorial Park for a night of Flag Football. There will be plenty of food available and lots of time for fellowship. Everything kicks off immediately after the game and will go until 11pm. Invite a friend, put a team together or come and join one, it's bound to be an awesome night!!

MONDAY NIGHT, OCTOBER 3RD WE WILL BE HAVING... a Small Group Bible Study at the Webb's. Dinner will be served around 5pm with the study to follow shortly after. Be sure to bring a friend and a Bible along with you. Everything should conclude around 6pm. Of all the things that we have the opportunity to do, none are more important than sitting down together and studying from God's word. I hope to see you there! Light the Way-Chris

Wine is a mocker and strong drink a brawler. Refusing to permit retail stores to distribute alcohol will not rid the world of the pains caused by intoxicating drink. But our action in this moment of decision will prove Christians are not apathetic to our world.

The manner you conduct business, the way in which you interact with others, and the opportunities you have to show godly influence is essential to those around you. What you permit or refuse to permit is a marker of your honor, both public and private. Give thoughtful consideration to how you show your integrity in Jesus. I hope you know this is your blessing to share with others.
